Emergency Department Echo Course Volunteer

When: June 18, 2017, 8:00 - 17:00

Where: HSERC in ECHA

We are looking for volunteers to be normal anatomy models for our ultrasound course on Sunday June 18th in ECHA.

We need healthy female volunteers to allow us to perform an EXTERNAL ultrasound examination of their abdomen/pelvis. We also need healthy male volunteers for the chest ultrasound examination to look for specific cardiac/lung findings.

Male volunteers would need to be there from 7:45 until 11:45 a.m. and females from 12 noon till 5 pm. We ask volunteers to please wear loose clothing (sweat shirt, sweat pants). Gift cards will be provided to volunteers for their time. The course normally costs $2000 and you get to audit it for free!

If interested, please contact cbeaving@ualberta.ca or alanna.achen@ualberta.ca.

Emergency Residents Ultrasound Day

When: July 4, 2017, 8:00 - 16:00

Where: TBA

The Emergency Medicine Residents are doing their annual Ultrasound Day on July 4th. We are looking for interested students to help for the day as models. You can choose to volunteer for a full day (from 8-4) or a half day. We particularly need female models for the afternoon. Being a model is a great way to learn how ultrasound is used, and to get to know the emergency medicine resident crew.

Coffee and food would be included.

If interested please contact erin.rawe@ualberta.ca.

Volunteers Needed for Starlight Performance Camp!

When: July 8, 2017

Where: Ortona Gymnastics, Saville Center, South University Campus

The Starlight Performance Camp student initiative is still in need of a few more group leaders and floating volunteers. Starlight is a camp that gathers workshops in gymnastics, dance, cheerleading and fashion for children living with a chronic illness and/or disability.

Group leaders will be assigned to a group of children and will guide them throughout the day. Floating volunteers will help wherever help is needed.

The only requirement is a desire to have fun with kids!

Check out our website for more information on the initiative.

Contact starlightperformancecamp@gmail.com for more information on the positions
